Our Posture of Care

We realize that there are very specific needs that need to be met at the end of life. Our team will provide each resident with an individualized plan of care driven by each resident. Our staff is trained to recognize and assist individuals working through end-of-life concerns, fears, questions, and unfinished business. We will embrace the end-of-life journey rather than fight it.

Kelly Sparr, LPNC, ALA

Executive Director

A ministry that serves people at the end of life was planted in my heart several years ago as I worked through the various levels of long-term care. There is something so raw and vulnerable about having the privilege and honor to serve others at the end of life that I knew this is what my purpose was. Since then, along with my business partner, Sam Swartz, and God's provisions, we were able to establish The Grace Space.
